COUNSELOR'S CORNER W/ IESHEA HARTWELL

ACCC's Executive Director & Certified Christian Counselor gets approached for advice, & without breaching confidentiality, she wants to share the questions & answers to help others as well.

My husband & I have been trying to have a baby but nothing has happened. Should I lose hope?

Some couples will never experience the joy that comes with having children of their own. Being able to cope, means you have to first come to grips with that reality, but it don't mean you have to lose hope. 1 Samuel 1:10 says, "In bitterness of soul Hannah wept much and prayed to the Lord." Instead of losing hope, Hannah prayed. She brought her problem honestly before God. In some cases God will answer the call but sometimes He doesn't give you what you want. Just know that God heard you but he may have a different path for you. Psalms 18:30 says "As for God, his way is perfect; the word of the Lord is flawless." Sometime God allows us to go through things in our lives that we may not understand at that time, but at the end of the day, His way is perfect and He knows what's best for us. *
